

CAMBRIDGE ENGLISH AND THE PLAN D'ETUDES ROMAND (PER)

Do you want to learn more about our offer for lower secondary schools and how your school can benefit from it? If so, this free event is for you!

Cambridge Assessment English and Cambridge University Press are delighted to invite you to our free teacher seminar on Saturday, 17 November 2018.

This unique teacher seminar will show how the Cambridge English approach to learning English is aligned with the Plan d'études romand (PER), and how they can work harmoniously together to develop learners' core competencies and strategies in English.

In the first session we will take an in-depth look at the PER curricula and the Cambridge English exams A2 Key for Schools and B1 Preliminary for Schools, through the presentation and exploration of tailor-made mapping documents. There will be time allowed for discussions within the group and feedback.

Then, in the second more practical session, we will look at each of the four skills in turn. Together, we will explore exam preparation materials that can be turned into fun activities aimed at improving students' receptive and productive skills.

In the third part of the session, participants will hear testimonials from schools in Fribourg and Neuchâtel, who have already gained experience in preparing students for A2 Key for Schools and B1 Preliminary for Schools whilst teaching to the PER. During this session, participants will learn how students, teachers and schools have benefited from the exam preparation experience. The participants will also be given the opportunity to engage with the presenters during the question and answer session.

We very much hope that we have whetted your appetite and that you will join us for this informative event, created solely with the Suisse Romande teachers in mind.
